Bonus Terms and Conditions

Bonuses are designed to enhance the trading experience of our clients, and to result with, possibly, a better outcome for the client. Bonuses are credited to the client's account and are subject to compliance with the terms of the offer made to the client, e.g. making minimum deposits and/or purchasing a minimum amount of options within a specified time period.

Unless stated otherwise in the terms of the offer, a precondition for making withdrawals after using the bonus/benefit is to buy options of 20 times the amount of the bonus. This is called a non-cash bonus. Non-cash bonus themselves cannot be withdrawn before the necessary volume has been traded.

When stated so, cash bonuses can be instantly withdrawn as cash, with no attached terms or conditions. It is important to note that most bonuses are non-cash bonuses.

Clients are free to accept or reject any bonus, but are always urged to refrain from abusing them. Abusing any of the offers could lead to cancellation of the bonus/benefit and closure of the client's account on the Company's website.

The bonuses/benefits must be used within the period defined in the details of the special offer. Should the bonus/benefit fail to be used within this time frame, the bonus/benefit will be withdrawn from the client's account.

The Company reserves the right to revoke the bonus/benefit should the special offer be abused and/or should the offer's terms fail to be met. The Company's decision – should this be the case – shall be final. The Company reserves the right to revoke or change the offers at any time without prior notice.

The minimum deposit for a bonus/benefit is $200. The maximum bonus/benefit a trader can receive is $10,000.

From time to time the operator may offer various competitions to its clients, the winners of which will be published on the website. By taking part in any competition the clients agree that if they win, the information concerning their trade will published on the operator website. All winners will be notified by private email.

From time to time the operator may offer a certain number of secure trades to its clients. With secure trades the company will reimburse any pre-defined number of trading losses incurred by the client, as specified in the terms of the benefit.
