

Bonus Terms and Conditions

Bonuses are designed to enhance the trading experience of our clients, and to result with, possibly, a better outcome for the client. Bonuses are credited to the client's account and are subject to compliance with the terms of the offer made to the client, e.g. making minimum deposits or purchasing a minimum amount of options within a specified time period, or trading a minimum amount in monetary volume.

Unless stated otherwise in the terms of the offer, a precondition for making withdrawals after accepting a deposit bonus is to trade a volume of 30 times the amount of the bonus. For the precise trading volume of any specific bonus offer, please contact support.

All bonuses are redeemable. This means that the actual bonus itself can be withdrawn.

"Optionbit" does not restrict traders from making withdrawals during periods where they have not yet met the trading volume requirements related to their bonus. Therefore, please note that if you request a withdrawal during such a period, the whole bonus amount (including any profits generated from the time you received the bonus) will be forfeited. In such cases, the bonus amount will be deducted from your remaining account balance, and then you will be free to manage the remaining balance in your account, as you see fit.

Once a client has traded the necessary volume specified in the terms of any non-redeemable bonus, the client should contact support to request that the bonus amount be removed from the account if it is no longer needed. The remaining amount will be cash that can be withdrawn.

When stated so, cash bonuses can be instantly withdrawn as cash, with no attached terms or conditions. From time to time clients might be offered a "lower-risk trade" or a "protected trade" bonus, upon a deposit. These are always for a specific number of trades, and cover losses up to a maximum of 50% of the deposit amount. If the trades close out of the money (losses), the company reimburses those losses back to the trader, in the form of a redeemable trading bonus. Consequently these redeemable bonuses have trading volume criteria which must be met, before the bonus becomes cash.

Clients are free to accept or reject any bonus, but are always urged to refrain from abusing them. Abusing any of the offers could lead to cancellation of the bonus/benefit and closure of the client's account on the Company's website.

The bonuses/benefits must be used within the period defined in the details of the special offer. Should the bonus/benefit fail to be used within this time frame, the bonus/benefit may be withdrawn from the client's account.

The Company reserves the right to revoke any bonus/benefit should the special offer be abused and/or should the offer's terms fail to be met. The Company's decision – should this be the case – shall be final. The Company reserves the right to revoke or change the offers at any time without prior notice.

The minimum deposit for a bonus/benefit is $200. The maximum bonus/benefit a trader can receive is $10,000.

From time to time the operator may offer various competitions to its clients, the winners of which will be published on the website. By taking part in any competition the clients agree that if they win, the information concerning their trade will be published on the operator's website. All winners will be notified by private email.

Also from time to time the operator may offer a certain number of secure trades to its clients. With secure trades the company will reimburse any pre-defined number of trading losses incurred by the client, as specified in the terms of the offer.

Occasionally the company may have a draw and award the winners gifts such as laptops, smartphones, software and/or free memberships to financial information companies. In such cases the trader will be informed from within the advertisement what needs to be done to enter the draw. For example the trader may have to download a smartphone application or answer a questionnaire. The winners, as randomly drawn, will be published on the website, and these published results will be final. Winners will be informed by email, and any physical prizes will be posted directly to them.
